If you are a person who was born in wedlock outside Canada between January 1, 1947 and February 14, 1977 to a Canadian citizen mother and non Canadian father, you should fill in an application for Canadian Citizenship under Paragraph 5(2)(b).

Examples of linking documents could include a foreign change of name document, a marriage certificate, a divorce decree, an adoption order, or an amended birth certificate showing both names.

If you are applying to replace your certificate, the name will be the same as shown on your previously issued certificate. If you want a different name on your certificate, you must provide us with additional documentation that links the name shown on your previous citizenship certificate with the name that you are requesting.
